The Tour of Austria mourns the loss of André Drege

On the fourth stage of the Tour of Austria, a tragic death occurred on the descent from the Großglockner. The 25-year-old Norwegian André Drege from the Coop - Repsol team suffered a serious fall in the direction of Heiligenblut. The authorities are routinely investigating the cause of the accident.

The organizers of the Tour of Austria and the race management immediately informed the relatives. After the stage, there was a meeting with all 20 team leaders and the UCI. It was unanimously decided that André's family and his team - all riders and support staff - would make the decision about holding the final stage planned for tomorrow together with the organization. This decision will be announced tomorrow morning at a meeting with all those responsible from the race management, organization and team leaders.
